

to a White Man's Town.
Palatka News.
The ladies of the philanthropic club of the Woman's Fortnightly Club through the columns of your paper wish to call the attention of the people of Palatka to the efforts they are making towards bettering the condition of our streets and sidewalks.

These ladies have had placed on the streets neatly painted barrels marked with the letters W. F. C., as receptacles for the refuse which has heretofore been thrown on the streets by a negligent public; and there will hereafter be no excuse for the past untidy condition of our thoroughfares.

The city authorities have assured the club of their sympathy and cooperation in the work they have undertaken, and they will now be called upon to put into practical operation those ordinances against littering the streets with waste paper, fruit skins, etc., which already exist, but because of a lax public sentiment have not been as rigidly enforced as they should have been.

The club has also covered a number of street crossings with a layer of palmetto fiber, to the lasting gratitude of many weary pedestrians and cyclists. And they hope to do much more work in that line.

This is an educational work and these ladies hope by persistent efforts to create such a sentiment for well-kept and traversable streets that the city authorities cannot afford to disregard it. There will also be an appeal made to the mothers of families and the school teachers, to teach the children that it is ill-bred and vulgar to be careless of their surroundings and the comforts of others, and to try to instill in them a desire to make their own yards and sidewalks as attractive as possible.

Now, if anyone feels inclined to scoff at the work of these earnest women and their "trash barrels" (as I know some have done) will he kindly come forward and suggest some other practical plan for bettering the condition of our town; for making it look more like a white man's town? We will be grateful for any reasonable suggestions. It has been well said that neatness and attractiveness have a moneyed value.

With the help of the city officials, for it has been demonstrated that—to paraphrase an old saying—an ounce of law is worth a pound of persuasion, the women of this club hope to raise the reproach that now rests upon our town of being one of the most ill-kept and unattractive places in the state and making it indeed a Gem City.

In conclusion we would like to thank the mayor and the city council for their kind words of encouragement, and the many merchants of the town, who have greatly helped by donating the barrels to the cause, thus saving us much expense; also the MonkrIDGE Manufacturing Co., for the palmetto fiber which it so kindly offered us. We now expect a ready and willing compliance with the laws against throwing trash in the streets from the rest of the public.

Respectfully,
A MEMBER OF THE CLUB.

City Election Not Far Off.

The annual election of municipal officers will occur on Tuesday, the 8th day of April, a matter of a little over six weeks.

So far as the News is able to learn there has been but little talk of candidates up to the present time, but some interest should be aroused by some one, and that soon. Beside a mayor, 10 aldermen are to be elected, and these will have to do with the expenditure of the big sum of money for city improvements which will come from the sale of the recently authorized bond issue. For this one reason alone care should be exercised in seeing that good, level headed men are nominated. The council will not spend the money directly, but it will have the power to block or acquiesce in the work of the bond trustees.
Therefore careful business men should be elected.

The men composing the board of bond trustees are among the best business talent in Palatka. The council should measure up to the same standard of ability.

The incoming mayor will not have the disagreeable features of the office as now constituted to confront him.
The police court work will be taken from his hands and given over to a municipal judge. The position will then be simply one of honor, with the power of veto. Such being the case it ought not to be hard to get a good man for the sacrifice.

Married Wednesday Evening.

Capt. John D. Points of this city was married yesterday at Lincolnton, N. C., the bride being Miss Jesse Alexander. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's mother at 5:30 p. m. and was comparatively private, being witnessed by the family and a few friends of the bride.

The groom is one of the most popular of Palatka's young business men, and has promising prospects for the future. He is the son of Capt.
Jno. D. Points, ex-mayor and the present head of the water works, and is the captain of the Gem City Guards.

The bride visited Palatka some three years ago when her charming manners won for her a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Points will reach here on Friday and will be at home after that day at the residence of Mrs. Gray, corner of Oak and Fourth streets.

Lenten Services.

The lenten services at St. Mark's Episcopal church, Rev. Douglas Matthews, rector will be as follows:

cept Sunday.

lent, early celebration of holy com-which tea will be served and a social ville, Fla.

Reichard, of Jacksonville, Fla.

A very cordial invitation is extended to all women, young and old, who are not members of the Fortnightly Club, to attend these meetings.

MRS. F. C. COCHRANE,
Chairman Committee.

Death of Mrs. Nye.

Mrs. Olive R. Nye, wife of Mr. Jay Nye, one of the proprietors of the Graham House, died at an early hour Wednesday morning in her apartment at that hotel, of heart failure. About a week ago Mrs. Nye gave birth to a child, and since that time has been quite ill.

Mrs. Nye was a most estimable lady, a devoted wife and mother, and in her death those who were dependant upon her have suffered a loss that cannot be overestimated.
Deceased was born February 14th, 1863, at Farragut, Pa. She was married to Mr. Nye in 1890 since which time she has been a resident of Florida. With her husband she came to Palatka last December to manage the Graham House. The body was taken to Seffner, Fla., last night, at which place the funeral and interment will occur to-day. Mr. Nye and two little children—a little six year old daughter and the infant of a week—are the survivors, and to them, though comparative strangers here, the sympathy of our people goes out.
The bereaved husband is well-nigh broken hearted at the sudden and unlooked for death.

F. A. Gerber & Sons have charge of the funeral arrangements.

An Injustice to Mr. Wall.

Editor PALATKA NEWS:
It has been repeatedly stated in this community that Mr. John P.
Wall is too ignorant a man to serve as a member of the state legislature; that being ignorant, he is filled with prejudices, and therefore not open to argument. Is this true?

A. Democrat.

East Palatka Fla., Feb. 17th, 1902.

The report that Mr. Wall is an ignorant man is evidently not true.
The editor has had several letters from him during the past year, and judging from these our opinion would be that the writer was a man of fair, common school education.
The editor has heard the same report, himself, but never gave it much thought. Inquiry among Mr. Wall's friends since the receipt of the above letter has convinced us that the report does Mr. Wall great injustice.
It is stated upon reliable authority that during the republican administration of county School Superintendent Chadwick, some 20 years ago, Mr. Wall was employed to teach the negro school, No. 35, at Sister Spring church, some six miles east of his present home. Of course the fact that he was then considered competent to teach the young colored idea how to shoot should dispose of the slander now raised against his purely educational qualifications to sit in the halls of legislation.

Resigns From Naval Academy.

Naval cadet Geo. W. Bassett is home from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, with his resignation in the hands of the Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Bassett acknowledges to a feeling of homesickness, and this, together with the desire of his mother to have him home, led to his resignation. The young man need make no apologies for the homesick feeling. No right minded young man ever left a good home without experiencing that same feeling. But the impression among his friends here is, that he has made a mistake in resigning. The young man begins to think so himself, and he may go back. It's up to Secretary Long to say.

George Bassett led in the rigid examination of applicants from the Second Florida district about a year ago. In September last he entered the academy after being subjected to the rigid physical examination at that institution. His town people are proud of him, and his schoolmates envy him, and the opinion generally prevails that he is making a mistake in lightly surrendering an opportunity which comes to few young men. The News trusts that after a short vacation at home he will see the error of his way and recall that resignation. In a measure he is a public character now, and the public is interested to the extent of seeing that one of our brightest young men does not lightly brush aside this splendid opportunity for a career.

"Dr." D. M. Milton the alleged forger who was located in this city last week, but who got out of the rear door while the front of his newly rented house was being watched, was arrested a few days later at Macon, Ga. He had a large number of forged checks on his person at the time of his arrest. He was held by the Macon authorities until the arrival of deputy sheriff Hand, of Orland, who has returned to Florida with his prisoner, where he is wanting for forging a check of $150 at Orland. Milton is said to be an experienced crook for whom the Pinkerton's have a standing reward of $500. This money will go to the Macon officer who made the arrest, and the Palatka officer who didn't make it is thinking of his lost opportunity.
Milton is an opium fiend and is said to be in constant need of the drug.

Counterfeit Silver Dollars.

Counterfeit silver dollars were passed at John W. Hagan's bar yesterday by two negroes. The money was taken by Mr. Hagan's son during the absence of his father. The bar is out five dollars in goods and change, the till showing that amount of the "queer." The same parties attempted to pass the bogus silver at other points, but so far deputy Kernerly has been unable to find any one else who had been duped. The money is a very poor counterfeit, and yet in a hurried transaction would be easily accepted by an unsuspecting person.
The money was all passed and attempted to be passed by two negroes.

After Taking.

C. W. Chaffinch, a former member of the Gem City Guards, whose home was at Buffalo Bluff, and who served throughout the Spanish-American war in Cuba as a member of the Fifty-seventh Indiana regiment, is now in the navy, a seaman on the Topeka at Port Royal. What he thinks of the navy is stated in verse to a friend in this city, and is as follows:

I stood outside and viewed the navy, Oh! what a lovely sight,
So I enlisted, said that I would go And for my country fight.
I bid farewell to all my friends,
And like a hero off did start, With my mind all filled with fancies
And a lightness in my heart.
By rail the route was pleasing, And everything went well Until I went aboard the Topeka, Then I thought I was in—well it went down to tell;
For the decks were lined with rookies Lanky, lean and stout,
All kinds of freaks of nature, Scattered all about.
The decks were wet and sloppy, Soapuds everywhere,
Holy stones! the scrubbing brushes, Thick as 'skeeeters in the air.
They ran me up the rigging, Morning, noon and night;
They fed me on rice, raisins and beef No home could bite.
Eight inches space to sleep in,
A rainbow space at best, Was all that poor me had To lay my head to rest.
They took me out for target practice Soon after I went aboard, But I got so cold darned sea sick That I never fired a load.
So now I stand inside the navy,
On the rolling, rocking deck, Looking out to leeward With a longing rubber neck, Thinking of the past times,
That I'd had on rice, raisins and beef, But to me they are only memories Never more to be seen.

and Fancy Goods on the following is extended to the ladies of Palatka and Putnam county to visit the store

The Federal grand jury at Tampa has found a true bill against W. E.
Metford for robbing the Orlando postoffice a few months ago. Met-ford is a morphine fiend, and there is much sympathy for him, on the ground that when loaded with morphine he is responsible for what he does. But then irresponsibility should not be permitted to run at large.
